Report on Andrew Jackson's Genealogy

Generation No. 1

Andrew Jackson, born March 15, 1767 in the Waxhaws area on the border between present-day North and South Carolina; died June 08, 1845 at The Hermitage, Davidson County, Tennessee. He was the son of Andrew Jackson and Elizabeth Hutchinson. He married Rachel Donelson about 1791 in Natchez, Mississippi. She was born in 1767 in Virginia, and died December 22, 1828 at The Hermitage, Davidson County, Tennessee.

Generation No. 2 (Jackson's Parents)

Andrew Jackson, born about 1730 in northern Ireland; died about March 1, 1767 in the Waxhaws. He was the son of Hugh Jackson. He married Elizabeth Hutchinson about 1760.

Elizabeth Hutchinson, born about 1740; died November 1781 in Charleston, South Carolina. The names of Elizabeth Hutchinson's parents are not known.

Andrew and Elizabeth Hutchinson Jackson migrated to the colonies from Northern Ireland about 1765. There is conflicting information about the identity of Andrew Jackson Senior's father, but it is generally believed that his name was Hugh Jackson. Andrew Senior died just before the birth of his third child.

Elizabeth Hutchinson Jackson died of illness contracted while nursing prisoners during Revolutionary War.

Children of Andrew Jackson and Elizabeth Hutchinson were:

1. Hugh Jackson, born about 1763 in Northern Ireland; died June 20, 1779 in North Carolina. Hugh Jackson was a volunteer in Col. William R. Davie's Regiment and died of heat exhaustion after the Battle of Stono Ferry, during the American Revolution.

2. Robert Jackson, born about 1764 in northern Ireland; died April 27, 1781. Robert Jackson died during American Revolution of smallpox.
3. Andrew Jackson, born March 15, 1767 in the Waxhaws area on the border between present day North and South Carolina ; died June 08, 1845 at The Hermitage, Davidson County, Tennessee He married Rachel Donelson about 1791 in Natchez, Mississippi.

Generation No. 3 (Jackson's Grandparents)

Hugh Jackson, born in northern Ireland; died about 1786 in northern Ireland.

Hugh Jackson was a linen weaver and merchant. According to some sources Jackson inherited about 200 pounds from him, both the grandfather's name and the inheritance have been disputed by other researchers. There is no agreement about who Jackson's grandmother was. The identities of Jackson's paternal uncles are also disputed.

Children of Hugh Jackson were:

1. Hugh Jackson, according to Jackson biographer, Marquis James, Hugh had been a soldier in the 49th Regiment of Foot in the British Army and served in the American colonies. Upon returning to Ireland he wanted to immigrate to America but his wife did not want to, so they stayed in Ireland.
2. James Jackson, his name may have been Samuel.
3. Andrew Jackson, born about 1730 in northern Ireland; died about March 01, 1767 in the Waxhaws; married Elizabeth Hutchinson about 1760.
4. Robert Jackson, born about 1748 in Ireland. May have lived in Brighton, Beaver County, Pennsylvania.

Unknown Hutchinson

6. Elizabeth Hutchinson, born 1740; died November 1781 in Charleston, SC; married Andrew Jackson about 1760.

Rachel and Andrew Jackson's Children

While the names of Jackson's forbearers are unclear, information about his descendants is well documented. Andrew and Rachel Jackson had no children of their own. Their adopted son and heir, Andrew Jackson Junior had four sons and one daughter. Two of his sons died as infants and a third died during the Civil War before marrying. Andrew Jackson Junior and his wife Sarah had eleven grandchildren, two through their son Andrew and nine from their daughter Rachel. Only one of Andrew Jackson III's sons had children, therefore the number of Jackson descendants named "Jackson" is very limited.
